

SCHOELLER-BLECKMANN OILFIELD TECHNOLOGY GMBH (SBOT) maintains its website for presentation of the company to inform customers and interested companies in the metal industry, as well as the public about our products, technical possibilities as well as the research and development work.

Content Disclaimer

The information contained on the website is of general nature only and is not intended to address the specific circumstances of any particular individual or entity.

Although it is our goal to keep the information timely and accurate and to correct errors brought to our attention within reasonable time, we cannot take responsibility for the information contained to be comprehensive, complete, accurate and up to date. In particular, the correction of multimedia data is dependent on third party service providers and thus requires more time.

The information contained could include forward-looking statements. All of those statements, as well as any other information contained on the website, serve information purposes only and cannot replace professional financial or technical advice. They are also not to be understood as recommendation – or offer – to buy shares in SBO (Schoeller-Bleckmann Oilfield Equipment AG) and SBOT cannot be held liable thereof.

Third party content and information derived from third party sources is part of the information provided on the website. Furthermore, the website is linked to third party websites – including the websites of other SBO and SBO group companies – and to content made accessible by third parties. Although we try to select such information and sources with care, we do not have control over such information and sources. Therefore, SBOT cannot accept any responsibility or liability whatsoever with regard to such information.

Technical Disclaimer

Unfit source codes, incompatibilities of scripts and browsers, interfaces, or devices, server failures and other errors of technical nature or disruptions caused by technical errors create risks for the usability of the website. Furthermore, the transmission of data constitutes a regular source of errors. Also properly created and structured files and formats can be error-prone from time to time, in particular when incompatibilities exist to the settings of your browser, interfaces, or devices.

Therefore, SBOT cannot accept any responsibility or liability whatsoever with regard to the usability, faultlessness or technical suitability of the website.

For the avoidance of doubt, limitations to the responsibility or liability of SBOT, as set out in this (content and technical) disclaimer, shall only apply to the extent permissible by applicable rules and regulations.

Trackers and Cookies

SBOT uses trackers and cookies very selectively only. They are in use to enhance usability and effectiveness of presentation of the information contained on the website. For these purposes we also make use of the tool Google Analytics by Google Inc. A cookie is stored on your computer, which saves information as regards your usage of our website, to be analysed by the Google Analytics program. It can thereby not be excluded that Google uses the information to improve own products and services. Analysis is made on an anonymous basis.

You can select within the settings of your browser whether trackers and cookies may be set or not. However, this may have consequences on the full functionality of the website.

Copyright Notice

Unless reference is made explicitly to any other source, the information contained on the website, including textual, image, graphical and multimedia data, are the exclusive property of SBO, or of an SBO group company. SBOT Logos, both expressed in pictures and characters, are trademark-protected worldwide.

Any reproduction, dissemination, or passing on is not permitted. In particular, logos of SBOT may not be presented in connection with any third party information, unless with the explicit consent of SBOT.

Any infringement of the property rights of SBOT may trigger civil and / or criminal prosecution and need to be avoided.

Personal Data Protection

SBOT takes the protection of your personal data very seriously and abides strictly by the rules of data protection. For further information on data privacy, reference is made to SBO's privacy policy.
